Harvey, Steve. Act like a lady, think like a man : what men really think about love, relationships, intimacy, and commitment. Expanded ed. New York : Amistad ;, 2014. Everything you need to know about men and relationships is right here -- The mind-set of a man. What drives men -- Our love isn't like your love -- The three things every man needs: support, loyalty, and the cookie -- "We need to talk," and other words that make men run for cover -- Why men do what they do. First things first: he wants to sleep with you -- Sports fish vs. keepers: how men distinguish between the marrying types and the playthings -- Mama's boys -- Why men cheat -- The playbook: how to win the game. Men respect standards, get some -- The five questions every woman should ask before she gets in too deep -- The ninety-day rule: getting the respect you deserve -- If he's meeting the kids after you decide he's "the one," it's too late -- Strong, independent, and lonely, women -- How to get the ring -- From his woman to his wife: winning his heart for a lifetime. Managing the ex-files: how to keep your cool when his past arrives -- Making the first ninety days count -- Your career, his ambitions: how to make your dreams work together -- When the cookie crumbles: put the spice back into your relationship -- is it time to put a ring on it?: a 10=step test before your trip to the jeweler -- Avoiding a family feud: navigating his family -- Quick answers to the questions you've always wanted to ask. Steve Harvey has updated his classic with new advice and insights. Whether it's why women should enforce a "90-Day Probation Period" before they give their men sexual "benefits" - the way Ford motor company withholds medical and dental benefits until an employee has been on the job for 3 months - or explaining to women why men would rather "fix it" than talk about it, Steve Harvey's advice is always spot-on and laden with warmth and humor. But behind the laughter is his sincere desire to help women understand men. With liberal use of his own adventures in love and courtship, Act Like a Lady, Think Like a Man is an honest, compelling, and realistic examination of how men think about love and sex and what women need to know so that they can set realistic expectations of the men in their life.

FIC SPARKS
In a Southern nursing home, an 80-year-old man reads from his diary to his wife, suffering from Alzheimer's. It's the story of their teenage romance, followed by years of separation because he was from the wrong class, followed by her decision, on his return from World War II, to be her own woman and marry him. Set amid the austere beauty of coastal North Carolina in 1946, The Notebook begins with the story of Noah Calhoun, a rural Southerner returned home from World War II. Noah, thirty-one, is restoring a plantation home to its former glory, and he is haunted by images of the beautiful girl he met fourteen years earlier, a girl he loved like no other. Unable to find her, yet unwilling to forget the summer they spent together, Noah is content to live with only memories, until she unexpectedly returns to his town to see him once more. Allie Nelson, twenty-nine, is now engaged to another man, but realizes that the original passion she felt for Noah has not dimmed with the passage of time. Still, the obstacles that once ended their previous relationship remain, and the gulf between their worlds is too vast to ignore. With her impending marriage only weeks away, Allie is forced to confront her hopes and dreams for the future, a future that only she can shape. Like a puzzle within a puzzle, the story of Noah and Allie is just the beginning. As it unfolds, their tale miraculously becomes something different, with much higher stakes. The result is a deeply moving portrait of love itself, the tender moments and the fundamental changes that affect us all.

Katie arrives in the small town of Southport, North Carolina, hoping to hide from her past and avoid raising suspicions, but when she reluctantly begins a relationship with Alex, a widowed store owner with two young children, and befriends her neighbor Jo, Katie is forced to confront the dark secret she is hiding if she wants to put down roots and find true love.
