- CD-BOOK BOX Box, C. J. Blood trail. Prince Frederick, MD : Recorded Books, p2008.
Read by David Chandler. "When an elk hunter is shot, [strung up, gutted, and flayed in a gruesome parody of the region's hunting rituals], Wyoming governor Spencer Rulon assigns Joe [Pickett] to the investigative team headed by Joe's nemesis, game and fish director Randy Pope. The authorities suspect a group led by antihunting activist Klamath Moore, but Joe thinks an enigmatic clue near the body points to a serial killer. As usual, Joe stands alone against official protocol, placing his career and life in peril by following his hunches. He persuades Rulon to release his pal, iconoclast Nate Romanowski, who's awaiting trial on spurious charges, to help him on the case."--from Publishers Weekly.

Read by Scott Sowers. The world's biggest supercollider, hidden deep in an Arizona mountain, will probe what happened at the very moment of creation: the Big Bang itself. The brainchild of Nobel laureate Gregory North Hazelius, Isabella is the most expensive machine ever built. Will it unlock the mysteries of the universe? Will it, as some warn, suck the earth into a mini black hole? Or is it, as the powerful televangelist Reverend Don T. Spates thunders, a Satanic attempt to disprove Genesis and challenge God Almighty on the very throne of heaven? The day is looming when Hazelius and his team of twelve scientists will turn on Isabella--and what they will then discover must be hidden from the world at all costs. The entire world is holding its breath. Wyman Ford, ex-monk and CIA operative, is tapped by the U.S. government to wrest from the team their secret, a secret that will either destroy the world--or save it. The countdown begins.
